5. You have the option for different types of media.

First, you can insert images.

Note: Below the "upload new image" button, the minimum pixel width will display. If the image does not meet this minimum, the website will give you an error letting you know that the image is too small.

After you select "upload new image", your media library will automatically appear. Select the image that you would like to upload.

The caption box is where you can input text that you would like to display below your image on your website.

Alt text is required for ADA compliancy. Here, you will input a brief description of the image, so that anyone using a screen reader can understand what is happening in your images.

In the link box, you can input a link that you would like the image to hyperlink to. When a site visitor clicks your image, they will be redirected to the link.

The "Side" dropdown is where you can select how you would like the image to display according to the text. You have the ability to display it to the right or left of the text OR above or below the text.

Note: If your image is full-width in size, then you will only be able to choose above or below.

Lastly, you can choose the size that the image can display at. The options available here will depend on the original size of the image uploaded.

The second media option is	s video. This w	vill be associated with	the camcorder icon.

2. Each of these options will have a different specified pixel size. You will select the "upload new image" button to upload an image to your gallery block.

3. After selecting the image you would like to upload, the cropper tool will appear. Here, you can adjust the cropping of your image to match the specified image size. Select the green chackmark to upload the image.

Note: Anything grayed out will be cut off of the image.

4. Next, we will fill out the required field, Alt Text. This is a brief description of what you see in the photo, so that anyone who is visually impaired and using a screen reader can read about the image.
